

Concerns raised over legislation for pets in rentals

March 6, 2010 | Winnipeg Free Press

This opinion piece by Avrom Charach raises concern about a proposed piece of legislation that will remove landlord restrictions on pets in rental housing. Charach, who is Chair of the Canadian Federation of Apartment Associations, argues that besides greater repair costs due to pets, the legislation also fails to recognize the dangers of pet allergies and would be contrary to other laws which protect public health.
